Maria Conceição CUSTOMER JOURNEY

Maria's son enters university	Maria realizes that she needs financial support for her son's university tuition.	Initial research into loan options. Begins searching online and asking friends for recommendations.	Maria visits the bank's website to look for loan options.	Maria uses the loan simulator. She inputs the loan amount and duration.	Maria logs in using facial recognition.	She enters her income, expenses, and uploads required documents (monthly income, regular expenses).	The system notifies Maria via sms that a decision is available in the application.	Maria accesses the website and sees that her loan status is pending and that there are available time slots for interviews, but the times are inconvenient for her due to her work schedule.	Worry and stress as Maria is unsure of the outcome and fears her financial situation may affect the decision.	She manages to find a time for the interview.	She takes a bus for the interview.	Maria attends the interview but struggles to provide sufficient additional documentation or clarification on her finances, making her case weaker.	After the interview, Maria's application is reviewed, and the loan officer decides to reject the loan due to her low credit score and insufficient collateral.	Maria receives an sms informing that the final decision has been made.	Maria logs into her account and sees that her loan has been rejected.	Maria fills out a questionary provided by the bank regarding her experience with her loan process.	After the rejection, Maria begins looking for alternative loan providers or financial assistance programs for her son's education.
